Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a list or account. The text is written on aged, slightly stained paper. It begins with a vertical line on the left side of the page. The characters are dense and difficult to decipher without a key, but they appear to be a mix of letters and symbols, possibly representing a specific dialect or a shorthand system. The text is organized into several lines, with some lines starting with a vertical stroke.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, continuing from the previous page. It features a vertical line on the left side. The script is consistent with the one on the previous page, showing a mix of characters and symbols. The lines are closely spaced, and the overall appearance is that of a continuous record or list.

For you are

For you are the first to see the light of the day

When the sun rises in the east and sets in the west

It is a sign of the new day and the new year
